

Border County Notes

Friday, March 3, 1911.

CARROLL.

Mr. and Mrs. Shanklin of Carrollton celebrated their Golden Wedding last Sunday.

Sarah Irene, infant daughter of Claud Tomlin and wife of Carrollton, died Monday evening of pneumonia.

Dr. Wolf of Norborne, who has been ill so long was unable to care for himself any longer and was sent to Warrensburg for treatment.

Geo. W. Tatham died at his home in Eugene township last Sunday afternoon of old age. In Mr. Tatham's death, Carroll county loses one of her oldest settlers. He leaves a score of friends to mourn his death.

The Burlington station, Robert Phillips grocery store, the Santa Fe store and Thompsons saloon of Carrollton were entered by a burglar last Thursday night. All that seems to be missing is some candy, tobacco and two cases of beer.

Sheriff I. N. Calvert, C. C. Beck and Wm. Berrier received the $100 reward offered by the Jewelers' Security Alliance, for the arrest and conviction of the thief who broke into the jewelry store of R. E. Meehan at Norborne.

Everett's saloon of Carrollton was burglarized last Saturday night. The burglar gained entrance by prying the bars off the back window. Nothing was missed, but the money drawer was found standing wide open which indicated that the burglar was after cash.

Samuel W. Dunn died at the home of his son, W. A. Dunn, of Carrollton last Tuesday. Mr. Dunn has been in failing health for some time, but not until recently has he been bedfast. He leaves nine children and a host of friends to mourn his death.

Roy Transberg, 17 years old, living just west of Tina was accidentally shot Monday night with a target rifle. The boys were playing at hunting and in some way the rifle was discharged, the bullet entering his forehead about an inch above the left eye and ranging backward and downward. It was first thought that his wound must prove fatal but he seems to be better now and hopes are entertained that he is on the way to recovery.—Tina Herald.

A mystery surrounds the disappearance of Brent Moore, a young coal miner, who has been working in the Carter mines, near Tina. He was seen on Feb. 12, and since that time no trace whatever has been heard of. He was boarding with Carter and left Sunday evening, not saying where he was going. As far as Carter knows he did not have more than $1.80 on his person when he left. There was $10 due him. He is about 22 years old, smooth face, black hair, dark eyes; when seen last wore black suit and hat and button shoes.

MARRIAGES.

Edward W. Mason, of Norborne and Miss Alice Malden of Stet.

Henry Weichart and Miss Dortha Weking, both of Carrollton.

John G. Singleton of Bogard and Miss Mary E. Simpson of Tina.

Robt. A. Breeze of Bosworth and Miss Marion L. Dulin of Camden Point.

Howard H. Lynch and Miss Laura A. Nelson, both of Norborne.

Willie Clemens and Miss Clemmie Stratton, both of Stet.

HOWARD.

The city of Fayette has extended her corporations limits.

Creson & Allen have bought a 162-acre farm, near Yates from P. D. Hatfield for $10,900.

An epidemic of "pink eye" is raging at Armstrong and vicinity.

A. Powell will probably build a store on the Harvey lot which he bought at Roanoke.

The Methodists at Armstrong will build a new church costing about $10,000 this spring.

The infant child of Ernest Ansell died Feb. 18 at their home in Bonnemfemme township.

Mrs. Orville Amick of Boonaboro, nearly 22 years old, died Friday leaving a babe only a few days old.

The farm trade between W. D. Lockridge and Walter Pearson which would have conveyed to Pearson the old Squire Lockridge farm in the Roanoke neighborhood has fallen through with.

Milt Littrell of southeast of Armstrong was badly hurt by a falling tree which he had chopped down. The tree fell upon him and mangled his leg and bruised his body Thursday.

Fayette's high school building was totally destroyed by fire Sunday evening about 9 o'clock. The fire is believed to have its origin in the furnace room, but nothing definite is known. Two large streams of water constantly played upon the fire, but to no avail. The loss was $35,000 and the insurance $22,500. Nothing was saved of the contents except some books which were water soaked.

The following distressing item appears in the Glasgow Missourian last week: "Gentry Cropp, col., left home and his mother would be glad to find him. He is 18 years old; weighs 136 pounds; has scar on back of head; is slow of speech and suffers with epilepsy. He wore a black hat and coat, overalls, pants and button shoes. Any information concerning his whereabouts will be thankfully received by his mother, Mattie McCrary.

Dan Pankey of Armstrong endeavored to celebrate last Sabbath night by chastising his spouse. Mrs. Pankey defended herself with a gun when she saw the open razor her husband carried. The weapon being an ancient one failed to fire and her mother held Pankey at bay with an iron poker. The screams of the women aroused the neighborhood and officers were summoned. Pankey escaped before their arrival. Mrs. Pankey will sue for divorce.

George B. Harrison went to Kansas City Monday to confer with Capt. Schultz, in charge of government river work, to see what could be done to relieve a situation that now threatens to subject work already done to destruction. Last year the government spent $20,000 in work to prevent the cutting of the river banks at Wilhoit's bend, above Glasgow. Unfortunately, there was left a stretch of unprotected bank above the work and farm owners in that vicinity say that when high water comes it will cut in behind the work already done and destroy it, leaving the farms at the mercy of the river. Capt. Schultz promised that as soon as the weather and roads permitted he would visit the locality in question and inspect the conditions there.—Glasgow Missourian.

Chas. W. Green, editor of the Brookfield Argus at Brookfield, has been appointed to succeed Maj. Mullins as member of the board of curators for the State Normal school at Kirksville.

Col. George W. Martin, editor of the Gazette at Brookfield, will succeed J. W. Jones as postmaster at that place. The salary is about $2,300 per year to the postmaster at that city. His first assistant receives $1,000 per annum.

The Linn County Baptist association decided at their last meeting to conduct a monthly paper for the purpose of promoting fellowship in the churches. Rev. R. L. Wood was chosen editor and Jesse Turner, business manager.

The Burlington depot at Meadville was broken into Thursday night and the cash drawer robbed of 41 cents. The robbers, had previously visited the Evans hardware store at that place where they gained entrance by forcing open a rear window. They robbed that store of 75 cents in money and four revolvers and some cartridges. It is also believed that the yeggs took tools from the hardware store with which they effected an entrance into the depot. A negro named Sam Caswell was arrested and is being held, charged with the robberies. This is only another one of many robberies which have been committed at Meadville recently and the citizens are becoming exasperated. They sent for blood hounds from Maryville to trace the thieves. Other arrests are expected. Later: Caswell was released.

LIVINGSTON

Mrs. W. D. Edmundson of Wheeling died of pneumonia Saturday morning.

L. T. Evans was arrested at Chillicothe Wednesday for obstructing the alley at the rear of his residence.

Lee Barton, a former Chillicothe newspaper man, is raising a big stir in St. Louis county where he is now conducting the Clayton Argus. To Barton, says the St. Louis Republic, is largely due the credit for instituting the contest proceedings brought since the last election.

The general merchandise store belonging to Ed Fink at Ludlow was entered and robbed of $500 worth of goods early Saturday morning. The burglars, thought to be professional crooks, then tampered with a window at First National bank there, but got no further with their workings. They probably were the same parties who robbed Evan's hardware store at Meadville and the racket store at Wheeling early Friday morning. Bloodhounds that were brought to Meadville struck a trail to Wheeling and there lost it. Saturday afternoon two men, a negro and a white man, were arrested at Kansas City with part of the stolen Fink goods in suit cases. They confessed the three robberies at Ludlow, Wheeling and Meadville. A third man with them in the crime escaped to the north and may be apprehended at Ottumwa, Ia. The prisoners will be taken to Chillicothe.

Jas. Baker, charged with killing Perle Gilbert at Ethel one Sunday afternoon in July, 1910, was given a sentence of two years in prison at Macon circuit court last week. He was found guilty of manslaughter in 4th degree. He is 23 years old, a son of Price Baker of Ethel. This seems a light sentence in view of the evidence produced which showed Baker attacked an unarmed man with a knife and inflicted a deep wound through Gilbert's liver from which he died the day after the attack on him.

Walter Atwood of Shelby county, charged with assault with intent to kill, was placed in Macon county jail because being Shelby's only prisoner, it was cheaper to keep him there. His young wife, Myra, won admiration from the jail authorities for her loving devotion to her husband with whom she spent most of her time. Myra also was admired by Atwood's cell mate, a Swede, bearing the euphonious name of August Sunlight. Wednesday when the Sunlight came out of the gloomy jail he sought Myra and together they eloped. Moral: You never can tell.

the Burlington will build a spur to connect with the main line at Carrollton or Macon, for which they surveyed last fall.

John Boland of Moberly fell and rebroke his arm Monday night, that member having been previously injured several weeks ago.

M. S. Mary Smith of Huntsville passed away Saturday. Deceased was a native of Scotland and was aged 54 years. She had lived at Huntsville for 32 years.

The members of the American Woman's League have abandoned the idea of a chapter house there, since gaining a clearer idea of just what kind of a building with which their efforts were to be awarded.

While unloading some cattle belonging to G. F. Young on John Frantz's flat boat Tuesday preparing to cross from the Carroll side to Saline, the bovines crowded to one side and sunk the boat.

George Slater at the electric power house at Slater Monday afternoon received a terrific shock while testing the voltage before turning on the current.
